HISTORIC MOMENTS AT WOODBRIDGE: 1953 Eleanor Roosevelt dedicates Bible Gardens. 1958 Gold Medal Award at International Flower Show. 1960 Exhibit of Bronze Holy Land Sculpture at the Theological Museum of New York. 1966 Progressive Architecture Award for Glass Chapel. 1977 Norman Vincent Peale dedicates Mausoleum. 1979 Full Size reproduction of Michelangelo's Pieta placed on permanent exhibit in the mausoleum.

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, world renowned author, lecturer, and spiritual leader, dedicated Woodbridge Memorial Gardens on May 14, 1977 to more than 1,000 guests and dignitaries looked on. In his keynote address, Dr. Peale congratulated those who purchased in what he called "this beautiful mausoleum set in the midst of a beautiful garden."

A full size reproduction of Michelangelo's Pieta is on permanent display in the mausoleum. Italian sculptors hand carved the six foot, 5000 pound statue from one solid block of marble, selected at the Carrara quarry used by Michelangelo. The artistic, cultural and religious significance of the Pieta can be appreciated by all who visit here.

Exactly what is a mausoleum? A mausoleum is a building made of concrete, granite, and marble that is divided into individual compartments, sometimes called crypts. The casket is placed in the crypt, which is then sealed. An elegant granite or marble facing bears an inscription for each family member.

Are mausoleums something new? No! Through the ages, mausoleum burial has been an honored custom of most societies, cultures, and religions. Abraham, Christ, the Pharaohs in the Pyramids, English kings in Westminster Abbey, the Shah of India in the Taj Mahal, Napoleon, Grant, and many more have all been so honored.

How do mausoleums protect against earth and weather? Since mausoleums are built above the ground, each private space is clean, dry, and ventilated with a continuous flow of fresh air. It is completely protected from snow and rain. There is absolutely no contact with the earth.

Are't mausoleums more expensive than regular cemetery lots? Because they eliminate the need and cost of graves, vaults, monuments and maintenance bills (all of which are subject to inflation), mausoleums purchased new may actually cost less than old fashioned cemetery arrangements.

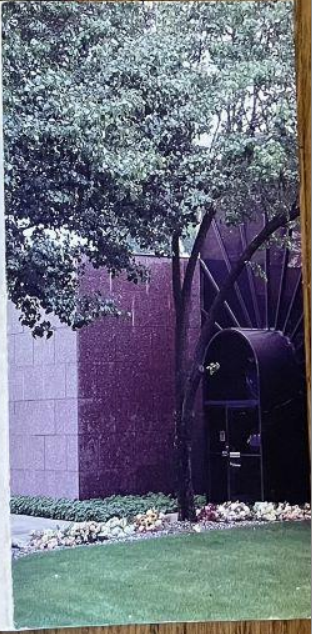

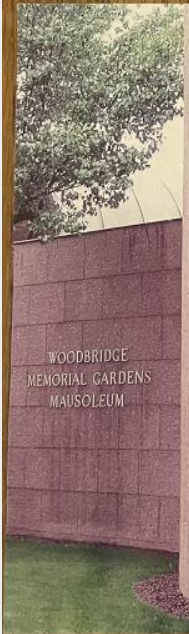

Why should families plan now, in advance of need? By planning now, you save up to 30% during new construction and have your choice of locations. Because of skyrocketing inflation and the shortage of cemetery space in our area, prices are sure to increase in the near future.

Does Woodbridge serve all faiths? Yes. The Mausoleum has been approved by all faiths. Your own priest, clergyman, or family member can officiate at services. Catholic families should note that the Church permits your mausoleum at Woodbridge to be consecrated.

What is the price of a mausoleum? There are many different prices depending on the location one selects. A trained counselor is available to review our prices with you and to design terms to suit your budget.

What is the cost of maintenance or care of a mausoleum? There are absolutely no upkeep charges — ever!

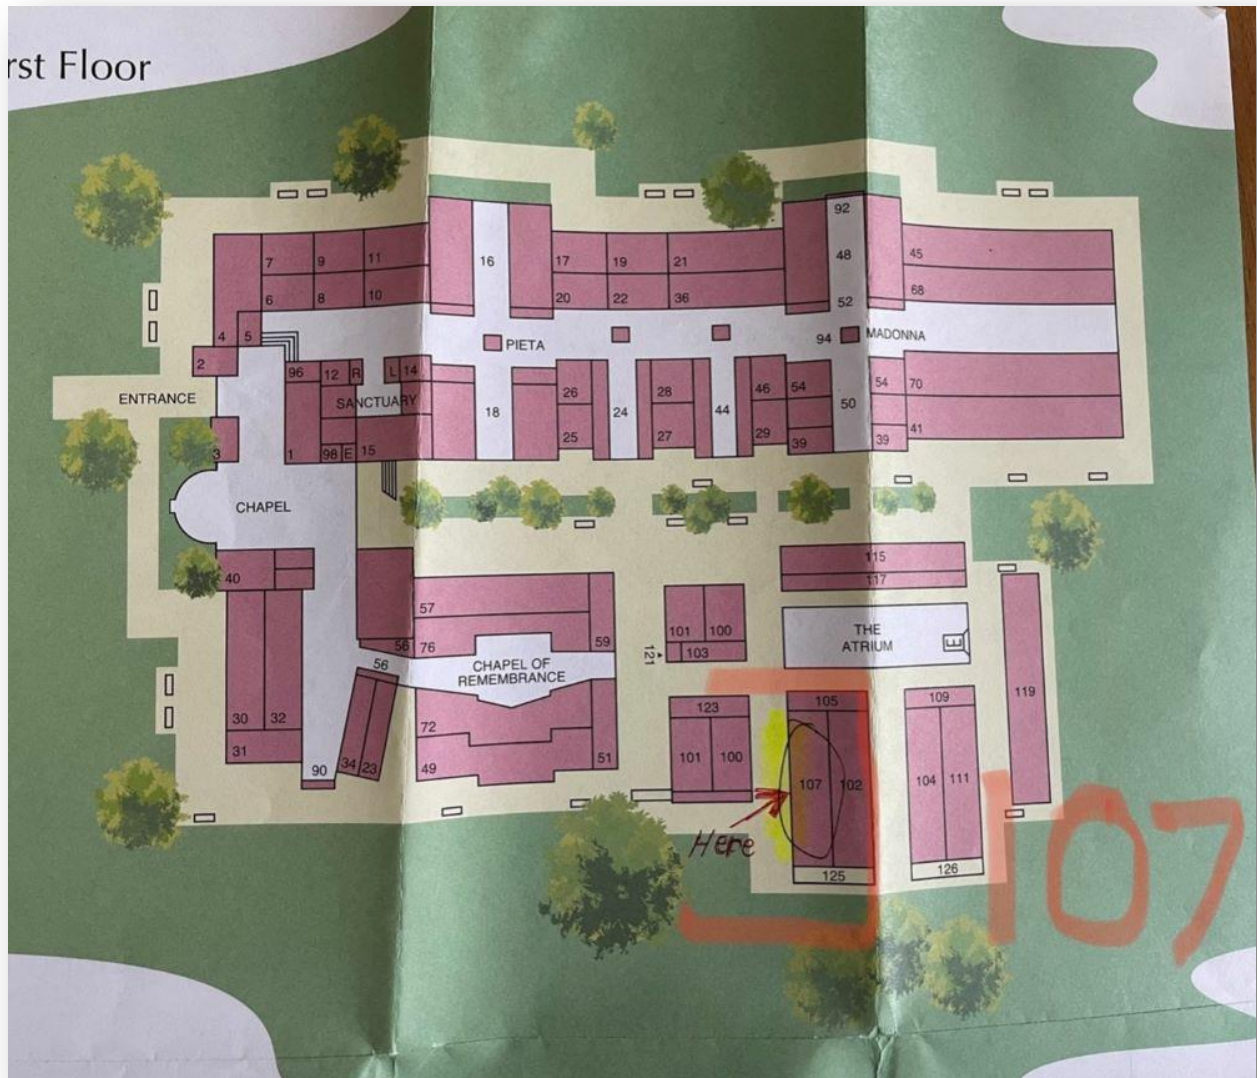

At what age should one make plans for a mausoleum? Because death respects no age, it is never too early to protect one's family from the hardship of last-minute arrangements. 90% of the mausoleums at Woodbridge are bought by healthy, active people. Having made this simple, one-time purchase, they never need to worry or dwell on burial plans again.

Now You Can Own a Majestic Mausoleum at a Price You Can Afford

Until recently, only the wealthy could afford mausoleums. Now, modern design and technology make mausoleums comparable in cost and far more desirable than old-fashioned cemetery arrangements.

With modern mausoleums, you do not incur the additional expense of monuments, memorials, vaults, planting, or perpetual care - ever. You pay one fixed cost which freezes inflation. Payment schedules can be arranged to suit any budget.

Burial arrangements are a very personal decision. Many people are disturbed by the thought of earth burial. That is why we offer the clean, dry, above-ground mausoleums which provide complete protection from the harsh, unfriendly elements of the earth.

Woodbridge Memorial Gardens offers visitors the comfort of heating and air-conditioning, upholstered furnishings and carpeted floors. The interior offers peaceful views of glass-enclosed gardens, stained glass and statuary, including famous works of art and architecture. To guarantee the permanence of the mausoleum, only the finest and most durable construction materials are used - steel reinforced concrete, time-defying granite, Italian marble.

Your mausoleum at Woodbridge will be a true, everlasting shrine, a place where relatives and friends will visit with pride for generations - to find hope and comfort from the memory of their loved one.

IF YOU WAIT FOR AN EMERGENCY ...

You or your family, under sudden pressure, will more than likely face costly, on-the-spot, heartbreaking decisions. You may be forced to make these decisions alone. You will be required to pay cash at a time when you may already have heavy hospital and doctor bills. You may be subject to emotional overreaching. And you will probably pay more for the least desirable locations.

IF YOU ACT NOW, IN ADVANCE OF NEED ...

You will be relieved of the painful burden of last minute arrangements. You will escape the emotionally disturbing problems of earth burial. You will pay the lowest price for the best location. You will be protected against all future price increases. You will be free from the costly extras of earth burial. And you can make easy monthly payments spread over a period of years.

MANAGEMENT

A group of experts, who have managed some of the best known memorial parks and mausoleums in the United States, operate Woodbridge Memorial Gardens. Their expertise and devotion is recognized by International Funeral and Cemetery Association members throughout the country. They have been personally congratulated by such respected leaders as Eleanor Roosevelt and Norman Vincent Peale.

24 HOUR COUNSELING SERVICE
